'Biggest ever quarter' of ONStor growth

08 Feb 2008

ONStor, a provider of network-attached storage solutions, has announced its most successful ever quarter of sales for the last three months of its financial year.

In the period to the end of 2007, a total of 25 new clients were added to the firm's portfolio around the world, including locations in the UK, US, Europe, China and Japan.

Figures for 2007 as a whole indicate that ONStor achieved revenue expansion of 100 per cent - the third consecutive accounting period in which this occurred, according to the firm.

Steve Duplessie, senior analyst at the Enterprise Strategy Group, explains that the company is "in a perfect place" to capitalise on a trend towards new technologies such as Web 2.0, which are spurring growth in unstructured file storage requirements.

"The world is changing rapidly - file-based data in the form of digital content is explosive and unpredictable," he observes.

ONStor recently revealed that, after implementing its products at two data centres, managed services provider Smartways succeeded in accelerating its data replication from four to 50 gigabytes per hour.
